Business/Leadership

THE ACCOUNTABLE WORKPLACE
Holding employees accountable starts with setting clear expectations and goals. When everyone understands what is expected it is easier to get work done. There are times when leaders have to facilitate difficult conversations for employee behavior that has missed the accountability mark. This workshop provides a practical way for leaders of all levels to improve accountability in the workplace by applying methods that really work...and start with establishing relationships based on trust. Several models of workplace accountability are explored, including Patrick Lencioni’s research in The Five Dysfunctions of a Team.

Session(s) $109  $94.90 Sr.
Site: Online/Blackboard  Instructor: Cindy Leverenz

BUILD TEAMS WITH ENGAGEMENT
Participants will learn how to take a team from good to great by effectively engaging them in their work on a daily basis. This workshop encourages the heart of every employee to feel belonging in the work community through friendly interaction, constructive conflict, and creative problem solving. Employee engagement leads to long-term retention, so this workshop is critical if turn-over is a problem in the workplace.

DEALING WITH DIFFICULT PEOPLE
Difficult people seem to be everywhere you go! This workshop will provide several activities and insights on how to interact with people in a much less emotional way. Participants will review the anatomy of a conflict and complete a self-test to determine their conflict management style. Learn how emotions escalate a conflict situation and how to manage emotions to prevent further conflicts. Activities include examining if people are truly difficult, or if it is how we perceive the world around us. The concepts of personality differences will be reviewed in this module as we learn how to work through difficult situations.

EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE SUCCESS
Emotional intelligence (EI) is one of the most sought-after soft skills of hiring managers. One’s ability to understand his/her emotions and manage those emotions is critical in succeeding in a fast-paced workplace with a diverse workforce. The ability to empathize with others, collaborate, and succeed despite emotions in the workplace means the organization succeeds as well. Emotionally intelligent people are prized for their ability to work well with others, accept feedback graciously, and behave calmly no matter the situation. People with high EI often become effective leaders. Learn how you can become a highly valued employee with emotional intelligence by participating in this workshop.

196-457-32 (65464)  2/15
Session(s)  $109  $94.90 Sr.
Site: Online/Blackboard  Instructor: Cindy Leverenz

EMPLOYEE ENGAGEMENT
Learn how an inviting, kind, and encouraging workplace culture can engage and retain employees. We will explore how teams can practice “everyday engagement” through four steps suggested by Gallup. You will enjoy various resources on the topic of employee engagement to help you determine how to be the best leader and team player. Essentially, the focus is on individual strengths, meeting individual needs for success, and team focus on goals and expectations. It is as simple and as difficult as creating solid working relationships with each individual on your team.

EXPLORE FICTION WRITING GENRES SUITE - $375
Fiction spans several genres and touches millions of readers. Some of the most enduring works of fiction have come from genres like fantasy, romance, and mystery. And today, many genre pieces have gone on to become multimedia franchises. If you want to become a writer, there’s no better time to learn genre fiction and screenwriting.

Explore Fiction Writing will teach you how to write works of fantasy, romance, and mystery. You will also learn screenwriting, since film as a medium can further expand your story ideas. You will learn how characterization, plotting, narrative, and other techniques of fiction translate to genre writing. And through targeted writing assignments, you will put what you learn into practice. Whether you’re a new or experienced writer, this course bundle will help you broaden your skills and understand what makes readers engage with your work.

Writing the first draft is only the first step though. You will also learn how to revise and proofread like an editor. As you craft your work from first to final draft, you will also learn what happens after “The End.” Marketing your work and submitting for publication is an important part of a writer’s work, and you will learn how to navigate this process. With the tools you will gain in this course, you will be ready to write, edit, and submit your story, novel, or screenplay.

Suite bundles are not eligible for partial drops or refunds. Transfers to other open sessions of the same course are available. Please refer to your school for additional details regarding drops, transfers, and refunds on Suite bundles.
